Dear EOCRO's benefactors.

Following is the condition of the heart patient Le Van Dong

Dong was born in 1989 and now lives in Bong Son town, Hoai Nhon district, Binh Dinh province. Dong has a wife and daughter is only 6 months old. Both Dong and his wife live in their parents' home. His parents are both old and weak, so they can no longer work. Although Dong's health was not good since he was a child because of congenital heart disease, Dong is still the main breadwinner of the family, the main laborer earning money to support the whole family including his parents and his wife and child. Dong does not have a stable job. His family has some farmland so he still grows rice to eat. On days when there was no farming work, Dong works as hired labor. In addition, Dong's wife currently only lives at home and takes care of her daughter because their daughter is only 6 months old. Therefore, Dong's family life was extremely difficult financially.

Dong had a heart surgery once more than 5 years ago. The total cost of the surgery at that time was over 100 million VND. Thanks to the insurance provided by the poor household, the family only contributes part of the total amount mentioned above. However, that surgery also repaired a part of Dong's heart. Up to now, Dong needs to have another surgery to treat the remaining part with the cost of 25 million VND (this amount has been deducted from the hospital's medical insurance payment in order to enable Dong to pay in full preoperative). However, with current circumstances of the Dong family, the aforementioned amount is impossible when the main family labor falls. Therefore, Dong's family is looking forward to receiving the support from EOCRO so that he can overcome illness, return and work to support the family.
